HISTORY

Applebrook Golf Club was built on land formerly known as "Applebrook Farm." Robert Williams originally owned the property, located just outside the historic village of Goshenville. He was the first settler in Goshen. The land was deeded to Williams in 1680 from William Penn, and it is one of the earliest Penn Land Grants in Chester County. The original Williams' homestead, circa 1702, still remains on East Boot Road and was owned by Shirley Fox since 1971.

In 1715, the farm was acquired by Samuel Garrett. The Garrett family retained ownership of the land until 1900. A fieldstone house built by Garrett descendants has been renovated to serve as a meeting place for the Chester County Chamber of Business and Industry. The dairy barn has also been renovated and is being used as the Golf Course Superintendent's headquarters. The East Goshen Historic Commission believes the name Applebrook originated from Samuel Horner who purchased the property in 1913.

On Jan. 27, 2000, the founding members came to an agreement with a local bank that made it possible to take upon the venture of starting a prestigious golf club on this land.

LU LU'S BROWN WINS 2018 PATTERSON CUP

KING OF PRUSSIA, Pa.—Michael R. Brown, Jr. openly talks about the self-doubt associated with his golf game. His self-confidence and self-belief are always at a premium.

In Thursday's final round of the 116th Joseph H. Patterson Cup, Brown banished those inner demons, at least temporarily, with a scintillating mid-round move that led to an eventual victory.

Brown carded a second-round 5-under 66 to finish the 36 holes at 4 under, two shots clear of the field. Fellow Lu Lu Country Club mate Mark Farley, too, shot up the leaderboard and, too, posted a final-round 66 to finish second.

It is Brown's third Golf Association of Philadelphia Major title. He adds the Patterson Cup to victories in the 2009 Middle-Amateur Championship and 2010 Open Championship.

"All golfers question themselves," said Brown, 45, of Maple Shade, N.J. "I feel a lot better now. Having won two of them before, the last one being in 2010, it feels good to be more recent. I've been kind of feeling like the good days were behind me. It seems like it's harder and harder to win and I feel like it's harder and harder to play the game as I get older."

Brown entered the second round five shots behind Day 1 leader Scott McNeil of Bala Golf Club. McNeil carded a 4-under 67 Wednesday.

Brown's day didn't start so promising. On No. 1 (par 4, 427 yards), he had to chip out from the right trees with his second shot and would eventually make bogey.

He cancelled that out with a birdie on No. 3 (par 4, 460 yards) thanks to a 164-yard 7-iron that stopped a foot from the hole.

As the leaders struggled, Brown ratcheted up the pressure. He rocketed up the leaderboard by playing holes Nos. 7-12 in 5 under. He went birdie-birdie-birdie-birdie-bogey-eagle.

"I got a little lucky. I made a 20-foot downhill for birdie on No. 7 (par 5, 496 yards). I hit it entirely too hard. If it doesn't go in I'm going to three-putt most likely," said the soft-spoken Brown. "After I made birdie on No. 10, I thought I had a chance to win.

"I was hoping opportunistically the eventual winner would be at 4 under. That's what I finished at."

After No. 7, Brown's birdies went as so: on No. 8 (par 4, 361 yards) he lifted a wedge 54 yards to five feet; on No. 9 (par 4, 378 yards) he hit a wedge from 97 yards to six feet; on No. 10 (par 4, 414 yards) he ripped a 9-iron from 131 yards to six feet and on No. 12 (par 5, 518 yards) he made eagle when he drained a 25-footer after stripping a 5-iron from 197 yards to reach the green in two.

His No. 11 (par 4, 353 yards) bogey blemish came as the result of finding the fairway bunker with his tee ball.

Brown ended his round with five straight pars before converting a short birdie try on No. 18 (par 5, 460 yards) after finding the green in two shots.

"I'm a little shocked," said Brown. "I didn't put myself into the golf tournament until pretty late. There are a lot of good young players and a lot of good older players and it's really hard to win in Philadelphia. I couldn't be happier. It's a relief as much as a feeling of accomplishment because you would hate to work hard and not be paid off."

Farley, 22, of Langhorne, Pa., started the day 2:30 hours before the leaders after an opening-round 3-over 74.

"I wasn't really thinking I'd be in contention for the championship," said Farley. "I just wanted to go out and play a solid, smart round of golf and see where that put me. I was fortunate enough to eagle No. 18 and get to 2-under total. Then it kind of sunk in where I was at overall."

The Patterson Cup was Farley's lone Association appearance this year.

The 2018 Temple University graduate is working at Liberty Mutual in Conshohocken, Pa. and has had little free time.

His prior top Association performance came in the 2015 Patterson Cup at Chester Valley Golf Club, where he tied for 19th.

Brown, the 2010 William Hyndman, III Player of the Year, is in position to take that honor again this year.

Even if that fails to materialize, his place within the Golf Association of Philadelphia community is already established.

"In the back of my head, I want to be relevant and part of the conversation [when it comes to top players in Philadelphia]," said Brown. "That's what motivates me."

Joseph H. Patterson was one of Philadelphia Cricket Club's founding members. In his memory, friends and family donated a trophy honoring Patterson to the Golf Association of Philadelphia in 1900. Patterson is regarded as a pioneer of Philadelphia golf in the late 1890s. He helped foster the game in its infancy throughout the region. The Joseph H. Patterson Cup is the Association's stroke-play championship. It is a two-day event and serves as the fourth and final Major of the amateur tournament season. The Joseph H. Patterson Cup is a William Hyndman, III Player of the Year points event.

Overall, 44 courses have served as host sites. Huntingdon Valley Country Club has fielded the most champions with 12.
